

By registering / transferring a domain name you agree to the following;

1. That you have provided (in the segment below) the Accredited Registrar with your up to date and correct contact information as the domain holder and you are liable legally should you provide any incorrect/misleading information
2. That you as registrant and holder of domain have made every reasonable endeavor to ensure that the domain you are registering does not infringe or cyber-squat third parties' rights to other domains, registered trade and service marks, names, business names, legal regulations dealing with unfair competition and other rules and laws on protecting of persons.
3. That you are aware that your Accredited Registrar do not bear any responsibility for how you use the registered domain. You shall solely bear all responsibility for violation of any laws, regulations, copy rights trademarks and rights of any third parties resulting from the registration and use of the domain name.
4. Habari Node PLC will not be held responsible for any consequences that may result as a delay or failure of payments within the protective period and your domain name will be definitely released for use by another applicant
5. I registrant of domain name after reading and understanding domain names Registrant form hereby provide my correct contact information as follows;